Yet, to me, you're where your science stands or falls. Kudos for appealing to numbers. I think, at least, of these findings in the back of my mind when I say they may be right and proper, but it's not my reality. I don't care if you throw me in prison for calling it wrong. I won't be second-guessing it, I'll just call it wrong. I do think it's important for people to understand that climate change is real, and it's getting worse. It's actually worse than what the official numbers imply. But when they say your numbers don't add up, when they say you're using a tin can and a papier-mâché boat, there's a lot of people out there who go "that sounds like an excuse" and... That wasn't just my experience. That wasn't just me.
